

The EIHRA is pleased to announce that it will partner with the Economic Development Corporation of Wayne County and the Ball State University Bureau of Business Research to conduct a Wayne County Wage and Benefit Survey in the fall of 2009. For our part, we need to develop a committee of HR representatives from a variety of industries to review the previous survey questionnaire and update the job titles and descriptions being surveyed. We need representatives from all segments of the business community-manufacturing, health care, sales, transportation and material moving, information technology and others. The job categories to be surveyed include management, professional, information technology, administrative and clerical, health care, sales, production, repair and maintenance, transportation and material moving, and other miscellaneous jobs.

The work of the committee will primarily consist of reviewing job titles and descriptions to be included in the survey. This work will be done this summer in preparation for the survey to be conducted in the fall. Much of the work will be independently done or will involve small groups working together.

If you are interested, please contact Dianne Chandler, SPHR, at dschandl@iue.edu and provide your contact information as well as your industry and types of jobs you are interested in working on.
